

Importing and Exporting Contacts

Help Documentation

Importing and Exporting Contacts

Because people often have multiple email accounts from different providers, SmarterMail makes it easy for users to securely transfer contacts to and from other online address books.

Importing Contacts to SmarterMail

SmarterMail supports importing contacts from two different types of files: vCards (.vcf) and comma-separated text files (.csv). SmarterMail also supports importing from a .zip file containing any combination of these files. For step-by-step instructions on importing contacts to SmarterMail, please refer to the KB article How To - Import Contacts to SmarterMail .

Exporting Contacts from SmarterMail

Contacts are downloaded as a .zip file containing vCard files or as .csv files. These files can then be imported into Microsoft Outlook or into another SmarterMail account. For step-by-step instructions on exporting contacts from SmarterMail, please refer to the KB article How To - Export SmarterMail Contacts .

Sending Contacts from SmarterMail

SmarterMail also allows users to email contact data as vCard files. For step-by-step instructions, please refer to the Kb article How To - Send a Contact as a vCard .